

Setabase Website Feedback

Business & Private Customer Journey

Overall, we really like the website. The visual direction works very well, and we especially like the animations and the way the experience changes between Private and Business. Most of our feedback is therefore not about changing the overall design, but about making the services easier to understand, more informative and more reassuring, especially for someone discovering Setabase for the first time.

1. Private / Business selection

We don't fully understand the purpose of the question "Who are we looking after?". The visitor is essentially trying to identify themselves as either a Private or Business customer, so we think this can be made much simpler.

We would replace it with "Which best describes you?" and then simply show Private | Business.

We also don't think we need "Step 1 of 2" here. We would prefer the journey to feel seamless rather than like a questionnaire.

We really like that the building/visual changes depending on whether Private or Business is selected. This is a great detail and should definitely stay.

Regarding the visual used for Private: is this supposed to be a recognisable house, for example the Egyptian House? We did not immediately recognise it as a house. The illustration should ideally read as a private home/residence at first glance.

Also, "Skip to..." currently appears both at the top and bottom. We don't think it needs to appear twice.

Ideal journey: Arrive → choose Private or Business → choose what you need → discover the relevant service.

2. "What do you need?" - Service selection

We like the service categories and would keep them. However, some need one short explanatory sentence directly underneath the title. We should not assume that everybody immediately understands industry terms such as Property Management or Facility Management.

Property Management

This especially needs a short explanation so that people immediately understand what we mean by Property Management and what Setabase can actually take care of.

Facility Management

We suggest adding a short description with examples such as cleaning, maintenance and day-to-day building operations, so visitors understand the difference between Facility Management and Property Management.

Corporate Relocation

This should be slightly more explicit, explaining that this is for companies/employers relocating employees and their families to Egypt.

Special Services / Settle & Invest / Real Estate

These are relatively clear and can remain more concise because detailed information follows after clicking.

Please apply the same principle on the Private side, particularly wherever Property Management and Facility Management appear.

3. Property Management page - More depth needed

When we select Business → Property Management and scroll to “What we do for communities and companies”, the current description mentions property management, owner meetings, common charges, legal aspects and building-wide administration. This is partially correct, but we don’t think “Owner meetings” should be one of the first things a potential customer reads.

Before listing individual administrative tasks, we should clearly explain what full Property Management means and what Setabase takes off the owner’s shoulders.

Scenario 1 - Owner who lives in the property

- Bookkeeping and accounting
- Managing invoices and payments
- Maintenance and repairs
- Coordinating contractors
- Handling problems inside the property
- Managing issues with elevators, electricity and utilities
- Legal and administrative matters
- Common charges
- Building/compound administration
- Owner requirements and requests
- Annual cost reporting

Core message: You own and enjoy your property; we take care of the management around it.

Scenario 2 - Owner / investor renting out the property

This is especially important for investors. If someone buys a property, house, apartment, compound or investment property and wants to rent it out, Setabase should be presented as being able to provide the full management package.

- Finding and screening new tenants
- Preparing rental contracts
- Tenant communication
- Managing rent collection and following up on payments
- Issuing invoices
- Managing maintenance and repairs
- Coordinating service providers
- Accounting/bookkeeping
- Annual reporting of property costs and expenses
- Supporting the owner with administrative and legal matters

The page should make it very clear that Property Management is not simply administration. We want to communicate that Setabase can become the owner's trusted local partner who looks after the property as a whole.

4. Facility Management

We like the current explanation: Security, cleaning, maintenance and the day-to-day running of the building or office handled by our team. This is already clear.

We would expand it slightly so visitors understand that Facility Management can go beyond the common areas of a building.

- Cleaning of individual apartments/houses/offices
- Regular cleaning services
- Maintenance
- Security
- Day-to-day building operations
- Concierge-type services
- Receiving or coordinating larger deliveries/packages when required

The important thing is to show that the service can make the client's everyday life easier, not just maintain the physical building.

5. Locations

At the bottom, it currently says something along the lines of "Now in New Cairo and Hurghada, expanding to other Egyptian cities."

Suggested wording: "Currently serving the New Cairo region and Hurghada (Red Sea region), with expansion into other Egyptian cities."

We want to avoid making the Red Sea operation sound limited only to Hurghada if we can serve the wider region.

6. Corporate Relocation - More emotion, trust and reassurance

This is one of the areas where we think significantly more context should be added. Relocating to another country is a very personal and sensitive decision. Someone may be leaving their home country, moving their family, changing their job and arriving in Egypt without knowing exactly what to expect.

The page should communicate: "We understand how significant this move is, and we will personally guide you through every step."

We would potentially create or expand the dedicated Corporate Relocation landing page so visitors can read more before they are expected to contact us. The purpose is to build confidence and trust.

Start with a personal, no-obligation conversation

Before the current three stages - Before Moving / Moving / Settling In - we would add an initial step: "It starts with a conversation."

We arrange an initial phone or video call to get to know the client, understand their individual situation and identify their needs.

- Who is relocating?
- Is it an individual, couple or family?
- What are they looking for?
- Where will they work?
- What kind of home/lifestyle are they looking for?
- Do they need schools or childcare?
- What support will they need before and after arrival?
- What are their biggest concerns about the move?

Most importantly, we should make it clear that this first conversation is a no-obligation initial consultation. Contacting Setabase does not mean the customer is immediately committing to purchasing a package.

Suggested message: “Your first conversation with us is simply an opportunity to get to know each other, understand your needs and discuss how we can support your move. There is no obligation to book a service.”

Only after understanding the client’s needs should we discuss the appropriate services, next steps and a personalised offer. We want the website to communicate that Setabase is not simply selling a relocation package; we are becoming the trusted partner on the ground who helps the client feel confident about moving to Cairo/Egypt and supports them throughout the process.

7. Special Services / Packages - Navigation issue

There appears to be a navigation/programming issue.

Path tested: Homepage → Business → Property Management → scroll to “For Workplaces / Special Services” → See the Packages.

When we click “See the Packages”, we are automatically taken to “Request Your Packages”. However, when we scroll back up, we can see the actual “Choose Your Packages” section.

Please change the anchor/scroll position so that clicking “See the Packages” takes the visitor directly to “Choose Your Packages”, where the available packages are displayed.

Natural journey: See the Packages → View & understand packages/pricing → Choose → Request/contact us.

8. More information before asking the customer to contact us

This is probably the main overall point we are missing across some areas of the website. We want visitors to have enough background information before they are asked to contact us.

For each important service, visitors should understand: What exactly is the service? → What does Setabase do for me? → What are the individual steps? → What is included? → What does it cost / how is pricing determined? → What happens when I contact Setabase?

Especially where there is no fixed price, we can explain that after understanding their requirements, we will come back quickly with a personalised proposal based on their needs. Wherever appropriate, we should make it clear that the initial enquiry/conversation is without obligation.

We don’t want the website to become overloaded with text. The goal is simply to give visitors enough information to feel informed and confident before taking the next step.

Overall

We really like this part of the website. The animations, design and overall experience are very strong.

The main thing we are missing is the deeper layer of information that builds confidence:

What exactly do you do?
What will Setabase take care of for me?
How does the process work?
What will it cost?
What happens after I contact you?

If we answer these questions clearly, we think the website will feel much more complete and trustworthy, particularly for Property Management and Corporate Relocation.
